Good reading

Here is a book that might be of interest to those who would like to know more about EU institutions and how they work with languages and translations.

Translating for the European Union Institutions - Second Edition
Emma Wagner, Svend Bech and Jesús M. Martinez
Translation Practices Explained Volume 5  St. Jerome

“The institutions of the European Union employ hundreds of translators. Why? What do they do? What sort of translation problems do they have to tackle? Has the language policy of the European Union been affected by the recent inclusion of new Member States? This book answers all those questions. Written by three experienced translators from the European Commission, it aims to help general readers, translation students and freelance translators to understand the European Union institutions and their work. Although it deals with written rather than spoken translation, much of the information it gives will be of interest to interpreters too. This second edition has been updated to reflect the new composition of the EU and changes to recruitment procedures”.

Share your news with the efsli in Brief!

If you have any news of interest for the interpreters’ community, please do share it with us. efsli used to do it in the past. We would like to refresh this habit. We will publish your news in the next issue of the efsli in Brief.
